

Classics Development Group: Meeting 1: 21st September 2017

Agenda:

Purpose of Classics at Junior Cycle

The development group commenced their work on the design of the specification with a consideration of the purposes of studying Classics at junior cycle. The group questioned what the unique selling point of Classics is, and what Classics can offer to students who undertake a course of study at junior cycle. This feedback will inform the content of the Rationale and the Aim.

Links to Statements of Learning and Key Skills

The group considered examples of relevant learning and student learning activities that could be connected to the eight key skills and an appropriate selection of the 24 Statements of Learning. These will be compiled for further discussion at the next meeting.

Planning Ahead: The next 3 meeting dates were confirmed and the development group were informed on what to consider for the next meeting.
